

We need doors and windows for
the house.
I found a window,
I found the door.

“A child's play is not simply a reproduction of what he has experienced, but a creative networking of the impressions he has acquired.”

The children were now ready to draw a floor plan of their house. Drawing their individual plans gave the children ownership of their own creativity and imagination while working within a group.

I wondered how the children would transform their thinking from drawings into constructing a floor plan out of recycled materials.

*We need doors and windows for the house.
I found a window.
I found the door.*